

About Us

- Wuhan HY BIOTECH Co., Ltd. is a CRO company providing preclinical technical services and is committed to providing high-quality and efficient data for global drug discovery customs. The company is located in Biolake of Optics Valley ,Wuhan, China . We provides various biology services for drug R&D enterprises in the early stage of drug discovery, covering various technologies service platform such as compounds activity screening, selective panel test, customized service, biological sample analysis. With close cooperation with experts and scholars from many well-known universities and research institutes, the company boasts strong technical support. HY BIOTECH are ready to work with our customers to integrate resources, save costs, accelerate your drug discovery prosses. Our vision is to become a world-class preclinical technical service organization; Our mission is to provide the most efficient and high-quality preclinical technical services for customers worldwide. Our philosophy is People-Oriented. Honest Trustworthy, and Cost Effective.

www.heyanbiotech.cn

Our Vision

- To do the biochemical and pharmacological research and development together in the drug discovery phase with our client .
- To reduce cost and improve efficiency by our experience and knowledge for our client.

Service Item -1 Activity Screening -1 Tumor cell line proliferation assay

- Tumor cell line proliferation assay is always performed after activity evaluating from enzymatic assay. It is an easy and effect way to identify compound activity. In most cases proliferation activity result have good correlation with in vivo data comparing to report gene or GPCR assessment assays.
- HY BIOTECH boasts more than 240 kinds of human tumor cell lines, providing customers with preliminary screening of various compounds. With many years' experience in drug screening, we are in a position to provide customers with a variety of excellent high-end services, and provide perfect solutions through collaboration with customers on protocol design and planning based on their specific needs. We help customs to discover medicine in less time and at lower cost.

www.heyanbiotech.cn